

I think most of you here know that, not so? WHO issued a document in 1980 when it decreed that smallpox had disappeared, wherein it said that mass vaccination had worked in a large number of countries, but that in some numbers it had not succeeded at all, and that after that it had to change its strategy completely, in the following way. It's simply a form of quarantine, the strategy that has changed the game and that has managed to eradicate smallpox, even in difficult areas. For example, what happened in 1962, which led WHO to change its strategy, was that they administered mass vaccination in India. And at that time in the years that followed, the about three to four years that followed this mass vaccination, smallpox exploded. It was a total impasse! So, they had to do away with the scenario and change strategy.

They knew that smallpox became a contaminant only after a two-day fever outbreak. When the rashes appear, at that time there is a significant risk of transmission. It is not terrible, but it is important. So it was enough to identify people who had temperature, to isolate them, certainly with teams of people who had smallpox, or people vaccinated and possibly search for the people with whom they had been in contact. It is this so-called surveillance-containment strategy, these are WHO's terms, which has succeeded in curbing and eliminating smallpox. And with this, it was the myth that was forged, which was taken up by laboratories and the entire medical community, including WHO, to make us believe that smallpox disappeared thanks to vaccinations. This is the historical sleight of hand.

But the whole history of vaccines carries with it a typical lie. I'm not going to expatiate, it appears everywhere in the books of Michel Georget, of Sylvie Simon and the work that Initiative Citoienne (Citizen Initiative) does, constantly informs you of deliberate lies, that characterises the current medical environment. So, it is a choice in which we must commit ourselves to liberate our health, we must engage in it so that our destiny belongs to us. We must become an actor of our health. And now you have all the information to make the useful and necessary choices for you, for your children. We are in a situation now where the entire planet is threatened.

Think about this: No philosophy, no religion has managed to get the agreement of all humans. And yet, vaccines, all humanity has been vaccinated, without hindrance. How is that possible? There is truly a bottomless pit, isn't it? Considering it, it's a planetary Milgram experience.

That's what I had to say to you. The rest you know, if you want information there are enough books, and really internet is great and thanks to Initiative Citoienne. But I would like to conclude my exchange with you first of all by the questions that you will bring, but I would like us to have a minute of silence for all those victims of which we have become aware tonight. I would add that the worst victim of this system is the children. When one thinks that from the first months of life, during the first year of life the vaccination schedule provides for 18 injections. Actually, there are not really 18 injections because it is grouped, is it not? The latest is the Infanrix hexa, that is to say 6 diseases at the same time. Absolute delirium! Absolute! It's indefensible. When one thinks that the child's immune system needs to mature in 6 or 7 years, and the fundamental stage in the maturation of children's immune systems, it is childhood diseases. The emergence of childhood diseases is important because it is the time when children permanently expel, and their immune system is freed from the shackles of any past. And at that moment, it reaches the beginning of its maturity and opens at that moment all the psychic, neurological, hormonal and biological space. At that moment, it will be able to unfold in all its potentialities without obstacle. So, I'm thinking particularly about the health of children, and I ask that we all take one minute of silence in honour of all these sufferings, for the sake of respect and for our strength. Then, to go forward, to respect the health of all. Thank you. End 3rd conference.

Dear friends, know that all these doctors who denounce this genocide risk their lives and choose to lose their jobs, just to save your lives and those of your children. But, if despite everything you opt for suicide, get vaccinated. And if you want to participate in the murder of your children, have them vaccinated. The choice is yours. In the meantime, you have been told the truth. And this truth is: The vaccine is an extremely dangerous poison, the vaccine remains the greatest genocide of all time.

May God bless you!

NEWS OF THE END TIMES

VACCINE: AN EXTREMELY DANGEROUS POISON N°2

This is the continuation and last part of this article

I know a person who got excited one day, who bought himself a microscope for live blood. The person went through the College. They penalised him, they suspended him, they gave him a huge fine. But it's like that!

So it's important that you first know that AIDS, there is nothing true about what you've learned about AIDS. You can sleep easy in your bed. Above all, never go for an AIDS test! Never. Never take a test to find out if you are HIV-positive or HIV-negative, that's not true. And there are plenty of false positives. If you have had a vaccine, for example, you are going to have a test that is very likely to be HIV positive. If you have any other illness or have had it, your test will come out HIV positive. But no, it does not mean anything! It's not AIDS. So I wanted to draw your attention to that.

More than that, Gaston Naessens discovered a cure that restores the immune system, which revives the immune system. It's called the 714X. It is forbidden. Forbidden in Canada. I tell you that, I saw the effect of this cure which is absolutely extraordinary, that has no side effects, which is easy, that people can inject themselves with. They can see their blood. It can be monitored under the Somatidian microscope. Cancer can be detected up to 2 years in advance. One could see live human blood and one could see, you know the forms, the polymorphism, the forms after the 3, one could see that the person is sick. But it's extraordinary, it's fabulous! It's all forbidden! Anyone, doctors could be trained to learn it easily. It's just a blood test, a drop of blood on the tip of the finger which is put under the microscope. He even invented a condenser that one could adapt to an ordinary microscope and the person could see somatids. Everything is there.

Gaston Naessens, his concern was to make it possible for everyone. Yes, but the medical authorities forbid it. He faced trials, he was tried, he was prosecuted. In France he fled in speed because I think he would not have been alive long ago, that's how it works!

You need to know that all those who have treatments, interesting inventions, are all cut out, are all banned, both their treatments and the persons! They are chased, dragged to court, their documents stolen, and that's when they are not killed!

I think it was in 2002, within 6 months, there were 14 microbiologists who died. They died in 6 months. You know, it's a hard game. We are talking about huge financial interests and it is beyond that: it is the control of the population. They want to control the health of the population in order to make of us what they want: mere sheep. This is not trivial.

Africa, why is Africa dying? It is dying because it has been done on a very large scale: AIDS. I have a reproduction that adopted 2 children, 2 Ethiopians whose parents died of AIDS. They did not die of AIDS, it is not true! They died of fear and AIDS treatments. Nobody dies of AIDS, it is not true. It's a syndrome. There are no diseases called AIDS. These are only diseases where the immune system is deficient. But yes, but the immune system can recover! And you saw the whole list that we saw a while ago. And then, there are 4 volumes of names of people who were cured of cancer, brought back very sick people, etc., and all these have been banned!

The treatment of Gaston Naessens, I saw it, I know how it works. I saw patients. It's extraordinary. They begin to feel better, to regain their energy, to regain their strength and then they can heal by themselves because we are born in perfect health. The essence is to get back to that state of perfect health. But this 714X cure is absolutely fabulous, but forbidden! In Boston, there was one person who had a study done without saying what it was. And there, researchers in Boston in a big big ... because often it is another thing that it said: Ah, they do not carry out studies to prove the effectiveness. But no, they do not want to! There is not a laboratory, they all support each other. There is not a laboratory that wants to accept it. And it had been accepted once, I think it was in Boston, a large laboratory whose name I've forgotten. The researchers were all excited: Wow, wow, that's what we've been looking for for years! When the lab knew it was 714X, they stopped everything and they refused. They said to Gaston Naessens: We pay you back and we do not give you the results. Because they did not want him to come up with official results. So he was forced to go to court to get the results. He had them on condition that he would not publish them. Do you see how it works? I'm giving you just this little detail, but that's how it works. So what is good for the sick is forbidden.

Now, let's do a little overview of health. (She shows a book) This book, yes this too; Christopher Bird who wrote a book about Gaston Naessens, 'The Galileo of the Microscope'. And when this book came out, oh it was not available! That's how all information is blocked. It has been blocked, it still is, I suppose, but it is not available. It was forbidden, not forbidden but the libraries did not have it. The publisher said: Oh no, it is finished, we do not have any. End of 2nd conference.

Dangers of an authoritarian medicine

Organised by Citizen Initiative: Speaker: Dr. Didier Tarte. Co-organized with the IPNH (Institute for the Protection of Natural Health). Friday, November 29, 2013 at the Namur Palais des Congrès.

Witnesses of our destiny: We are ourselves, everyone is responsible for his health and must take it in his own hands. Anyway, as for me, as a doctor, I gradually evolved. I was trained like all my colleagues on the model of the unique thought. I did not know anything about it. Subsequently, gradually I met people who woke me up, especially patients; and I was fortunate in my career to meet the League of Freedom of Information in 1987, which gave me the means to understand what was happening. I worked with them as a documentalist. And at that time, the League for Freedom of Information was connected to a central unit that sent them all documents, articles and publications referring to the word vaccine. So we had all the classic official documents about vaccines. And we did at that time a piece of work to understand what was happening globally. And there I had evidence that there were a lot of problems around vaccines, a lot of publications that showed the side effects that did not appear later in the official press; which were sent to the doctors through the laboratories because you know very well that the laboratories completely hold all the medical and scientific press. We had some demonstrations with my two predecessors.

Then, in 1994 I participated in LIHA (Liberty Information Health Association) and I worked with them since then. I was an occupational physician for the last 13 years of my activity, which I completed in 2011, and there I was able to see how the system worked. I have been threatened several times by the Medical Council; that implied that at the end I risked being sanctioned and being cut out from the Medical Council. Moreover, at the end of my activity they tried to hit me anyway, and they asked me to appear before their assembly, because of course, I had mentioned very often in my activity of the problems posed by the vaccines, since I was horrified, I will tell you a little later about what I saw in my practice as an occupational physician. And I refrained from going to see them because they are people who have no respect and no attention to others and so I resigned.

So what I found as an occupational physician, I was simply devastated by the health situation of people. The number of disorders called musculoskeletal, the overall osteoarticular system, the muscular pain that people experience is terrible. So I started digging deep, from what people could bring me, they did not all have a document, it was their health record that is supposed to show the events. Well, what is often found on the health record is the dates of the vaccines. So I saw a proliferation of aberrant vaccines. People were over-vaccinated every five years for tetanus, according to the law it was supposed to be administered every ten years, but it was no problem for doctors to multiply vaccines. And when the hepatitis B vaccine arrived in 1994 in a widespread way, and it mostly covered the adolescent population, because in the strategy of the laboratories, they had already created a consortium with the WHO to prepare the ground and to raise the awareness of the WHO about the problem of hepatitis, because they had in their vans behind them, the development of the vaccine which was to arrive.

And so they thought about the strategy to put in place and they knew that there was a part of the population that was resistant to a health action. Who was that population? It was the teenagers. So they elaborated a strategy in the following way: If we get to have the teenagers, we will have the population. So everything was based on getting teens to fall into the trap through the kiss that was supposed to transmit the hepatitis virus, of course, and a tremendous propaganda with the press and the media of all sizes. And with that, the vaccination against hepatitis B was generalised to the point that, having had adolescents, half of the French were vaccinated against hepatitis B, even elderly people, old people. Well, you know that story. Well, so in the context of my practice I saw a lot of cases of osteoarticular health problems, a lot of work stoppages as a result of vaccinations. To validate my activity as an occupational physician at some point, I was asked to write a dissertation during my training. I wrote a memoir where I wondered, simply wondering, because I followed 57 dustmen and rippers in a community of communes and, which I supported in 2001. And so in 2003, I already had a memoir in the following direction: I had noticed that these people had a very bad health. Many accidents at work, many work stoppages, many, some almost a year. And so I wanted to do a study to show the situation that deeply concerned me.

In the following way, I made an exhaustive list of all the vaccines received by each person, so I spotted the 10 out of the 57 who had the most vaccinations in the last years, and the 10 who had the least. I showed the number of work stoppages, the number of illnesses, of care they had received and the type of illness they had, sometimes very serious and very disabling, some had been operated upon, etc. I showed that those who were the most vaccinated had three times more work stoppages and various interventions on their health, than those who had been the least vaccinated, the ten least vaccinated. When I submitted my thesis, at that time my thesis director, to whom I had sent all my documents, was no longer there. They made me appear last, and at that time they almost verbally abused me, saying that it was a deplorable memoir, which was very badly done and did not carry any evidence. So basically, they threatened that I would not be given my degree. I still had 5 years of activity and it was necessary that I completely start the work all over. So it's to tell you that the system is rotten from start to finish.

What needs to be understood through the problems of immunisation is that the present medical community knows nothing about immunity. The vaccines were set up by Jenner two centuries ago. At the time of Hanman it began, it was taken over in a very peremptory and violent way by Pasteur who imposed the scenario. But what you have to know is that those people had no idea of the problems of immunity. It was only really at the time of AIDS, so in the 1980s, that we began to discover the extent and complexity with cytokines, with all these complex molecules and the games between antibodies, macrophages, polynuclears etc., that we started to open the world of immunity, how it worked. But still, it's only a small piece! What came to light soon after, through the work on stress, is that immunity is a very complex axis with several levels of mutual interaction. The work on stress has shown that immunity is an axis with a psychic, neurological, hormonal and biological dimension. Well, we cannot intervene on the immunity without there being repercussions on one of the others. And as the vaccinalist group has no notion of these data of immunity, because they have only one criterion.

And do you know what this criterion is? It is very simple, it is the presence of antibodies or not. If there is no antibody it is not a good vaccine, but if there are antibodies, well, everything is fine. No one worries about side effects. Generally, they study the tolerance of the vaccine. What does the word "tolerance" mean? This word tolerance means that they observe what happens in the next few days, during tests, what happens around the vaccine, if there are accidents, if there are effects. So, they focus on molecules, proteins that are supposed to have an action over a length of time of several years, 5 years, 10 years, they do it for 4 days at most, at best a month! And the rest, it goes into the unknown! It disappears completely! Is it honest? Is there a sense? What science is in there? There is nothing. And when I think that we are all trained on this model, and that we are made to believe that everything is perfect, and that it is the vaccines that have made the diseases disappear, really there is enough to cry thinking that such is a science.

It must be known that there is a formidable manipulation from the disappearance of smallpox.
